About Alastair Brown

Alastair Brown is a corporate partner in our global transactions group, based in London. He specialises in advising financial sponsors on M&A, co-investments, carve-outs, take-privates, management incentivisation arrangements and other corporate matters. He has broad experience across a range of sectors and transactions across the globe. His client base covers global private equity houses, pension funds, sovereign wealth funds, financial investors and corporates. Alastair is known for using his technical excellence and commercial expertise to deliver results for his clients. He focusses on delivering the most complex transactions for his clients and helping them with their most challenging issues. Having spent three years on secondment with Freshfields in Hong Kong, as both an associate and trainee, Alastair has a thorough understanding of global cross-border transactions and uses his global expertise and experience to deliver these transactions for his clients.
